Evening

Its your works annual Christmas Ball, and its not something anyone takes lightly! Your dressed in your favourite ball gown that took weeks to find, the perfect heels and bag and those sparkly jewels. You want to stand out from every other employee, but not by wearing the wrong scent that sends the wrong message...

Office Scent

Your wanting to show that your efficient and professional. Your outfit says it but does your perfume?
You need to go for something 'Oceanic', crisp and fresh to show that you are ready for the day and to tackle anything they give you!

Daytime Look

Its time to leave the house again, your going to see some friends for lunch, do some shopping and possibly run those errands you've needed to do for weeks. Your dressed in your favourite comfy skirt with the figure hugging top everyone compliments you on, but what perfume do you use so it sticks for your busy day?

Daytime Scent

Your on the run about in your favourite every day dressed up clothes, meeting friends and running errands so you need something that's going to stay on all day, so go for something 'Citrus' type, to show your happy, energetic and ready for the day!

Office

Its 6am and your pulling on the outfit you laid out last night. A simple skirt suit shows everyone at work that your serious and want to get down to work, and those heels show you also want to make an impression. So you laid our your outfit, but you forgot to check your perfumes, what says 'I'm on a mission, and need to finish on time..?'

Evening Scent

So you're dressed to impress, your aim is to have everyone notice you when you walk into the room, but you also want to have the right scent behind it, so if you go for something 'Oriental' it says you're confident and romantic, perfect!
